

GLOBAL LAW FIELD COURSE: CHANNEL ISLANDS

FINANCIAL REGULATION & BREXIT:

The Channel Islands - Jersey & Gurnsey

FIELD TRIP: MAY 9 - 24, 2020

COURSE: LAW-7830-602 CRN

COURSE OVERVIEW:

- Students will complete the Field Study Preparation for 0.5 credits as a Spring 2020 course
- Field Trip to Jersey completed in May
- Field Study Debrief and Reflection Exercises completed during the Fall 2020 semester for an additional 2.5 credits
- Students must attend the entire classroom component to earn credit in the course
- Class Schedule: 1:00 pm – 3:15 pm on Jan 31, Feb 21, and Mar 20

PREREQUISITES:

- Successful completion of first semester of law school by Fall 2019
- Minimum 2.75GPA
- Valid passport

COST: $3,500

- airfare
- lodging
- ground transportation
- some meals

DEADLINE TO APPLY:

December 31, 2019

Professor Mark Burge,
Texas A&M School of Law

Dean Andrew Morriss,
Texas A&M School of Innovation

For historic reasons, the Channel Islands of Jersey, Guernsey, Sark, and Alderney (located in the English Channel between the United Kingdom and France) are associated with the United Kingdom, but are not part of it. Building on this status, these islands have become international financial centers serving as gateways to Europe and the UK for non-European Union and non-UK businesses and investors. Through meetings with government officials, practitioners, representatives from the financial industry, and regulators, students will focus on the Channel Islands as a case study of how small jurisdictions can become important players in international policy, regulation, and law enforcement.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
School of Law

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
School of Innovation