REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

There are several ways to register. (We cannot take telephone or faxed registration requests.)

1. Howdy \(click for link\) Available under the My Records tab. (This cannot be used for limited enrollment courses or courses requiring professor approval.) A registration tutorial can also be found there for your convenience.
2. Electronic Registration Form. \(click for link\) This form should be used primarily for limited enrollment courses. It is available through the law school website Student Services page. If you choose to submit an electronic registration form for non-limited enrollment courses, please be aware that it could take up to 24-48 hours to process these forms.
3. Paper Registration Form. \(click for PDF\) This form should be used primarily for limited enrollment courses or courses requiring professor approval. It is available through the law school website Student Services page and in the Student Services office. If you choose to submit a hard copy registration form for non-limited enrollment courses, please be aware that it could take up to 24-48 hours to process these forms.

Other Important Registration Rules

- You must register for limited enrollment courses and courses requiring professor approval either electronically through the law school website Student Services page or by submitting a hard copy to Student Services. Howdy registration is not available.
- Student Services will e-mail your @email.tamu.edu account if your registration request cannot be processed for any reason.

Adding and Dropping Classes

Students may add classes from March 25–August 30. After August 30, students may add classes only with the permission of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and a late fee may be assessed. The last day to drop a course is September 6.

Limited Enrollment Classes & Waitlists

You must submit an Electronic or Paper Course Registration form to Student Services to register for limited enrollment classes (identified as such in the schedule). Student Services will register students for these classes prioritized by each student's earned hours. Students should submit the Course Registration form to Student Services on the day of their priority registration. Waitlisting for these classes will be prioritized by each student's earned hours. Student Services will notify by e-mail all students who have requested registration in these classes to let them know whether they are registered or waitlisted. If you do not see your registration on Howdy, check your law school e-mail or contact Student Services to inquire about your waitlist status.

Important message about waitlists: If you are waitlisted for a class, you must submit a course drop form to be removed from that waitlist. If a seat becomes available at any time and you have not submitted a course drop form, you will be registered for that class accordingly. If a seat becomes available and we cannot register you due to a time conflict or overload, and we cannot reach you, we will move to the next person on the waitlist. Please monitor your e-mail frequently if you are on a waitlist.

Enrollment Limits and Enrollment Certification

Full-time students may take 13 to 16.5 credit hours. Part-time students may take 8 to 12.5 credit hours. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs must approve requests for overloads and underloads. Such requests are granted only under exceptional circumstances. Students must enroll in a minimum of six credits to be eligible for financial aid.

Students who work more than 20 hours a week may take no more than 12.5 credit hours, including non-classroom courses such as externship, moot court, and law review. Students enrolled in more than 12.5 credit hours must certify that they are not employed more than 20 hours per week. Full-time students who increase employment hours to more than 20 hours per week during the term must decrease their academic load to part time.

Clinic Applications and Registration

Students can find applications for each clinic on the law school's Clinic webpage. Clinic applications are reviewed throughout the year and students are accepted during the registration period on a rolling basis. Priority is given to applications received by March 22. Students are encouraged to apply as early as possible in order to secure a seat in the clinic of their choice for the semester they would like. Students who are admitted to a clinic will be notified and enrolled by the Clinical Program Office. Students are advised to review the Clinic Registration & Application Information Packet. Questions about the clinics or the application process can be answered by emailing experiential@law.tamu.edu.

Clinic enrollment requires that students complete or concurrently enroll in Professional Responsibility. Students who have not completed Professional Responsibility and are not registered for the class, will be automatically enrolled by Student Services. You may need to drop another course if there is a conflict.

Students interested in continuing their clinic experience may enroll in Advanced Clinic, a second semester two to four-credit clinic, with the consent of the clinic faculty member. The Advanced Clinic course is eligible for experiential credit.

Please note:

- You can find information about each clinic at www.law.tamu.edu/clinics.
- Most clinical courses meet in the Clinical Program Office located in the Star-Telegram Building at 307 W. 7th Street, Fort Worth, Texas. It is a 0.6 mile walk from the Law School building to the clinical space.
- All 3 and 4 unit clinic courses require that students spend a minimum of 6-8 hours per week at the clinical space.
- Per our Academic Standards, students are expected to submit logs of their time to their supervising attorneys to receive credit. Your instructor will provide you with direction of how to keep track of your time.

- In order to provide all of our students with a clinical opportunity, you cannot enroll in more than one clinic in any one semester without the consent of the Associate Dean for Experiential Education.
- To avoid conflicts of interests, you may not enroll in an externship and a clinic in the same semester. Limited exceptions can be granted by the Associate Dean for Experiential Education if no actual or potential conflicts exists and the clinic director consents.
- If you plan to work in a law firm, government agency, or other unit engaged in providing legal services during the semester, you must disclose the employer's information so the clinical program can determine if there are any conflicts that prevent the student from enrolling in the clinic. A student enrolled in a clinic is required to report any employment or internship to both their clinic director and the Associate Dean for Experiential Education.
- Once a student is admitted to a clinic, the student must commit to attend a mandatory clinic orientation the first Friday of the semester from 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- Students will not be allowed to drop clinics after the full first week of the semester.
- Unless a special accommodation is necessary, free student parking is not available in the clinic space. The cost to valet in the Star-Telegram Building is $10. There is additional parking in the area that ranges from $6 to $10. Street metered parking is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Externship Applications and Registration

There are opportunities part-time and full-time, both locally and nationally. Students can obtain a part-time placement in any field of practice and a residency (full-time) placement in any field of practice (excluding those in law firms) or can specialize in public policy. Please visit the Externship website page for additional information about externships.

Part-time Externship. Students registering for their first externship experience will enroll in the Externship course and attend the corresponding seminar. Students registering for a second externship will register for Externship II and participate in both group and individual meetings with their faculty supervisor.

- Application Required. Deadline to apply for part-time fall externships: August 1. Students interested must apply by deadline even if placement is not confirmed.
- Prerequisites: At least 29 completed hours; minimum 2.33 GPA; no honor code violations.
- This is a Pass/Fail course.
- This course counts toward the experiential requirement.
- Mandatory Orientation on Friday, August 30, from 12:00-4:00 p.m. (For first-time externships)

Residency Externships: Application and professor approval required before enrollment. Please visit the Externship website page for additional information regarding prerequisites, deadlines and course requirements for the Public Policy or Semester-in Practice programs.

Distance Education Learning (online)

A student may not earn more than a total of 30 credit hours toward the J.D. degree for approved distance education courses.

Students are expected to know how to manage computer issues and to have reliable technologies to fulfill course requirements. An up-to-date PC or Mac-based computer with access to high-speed internet is required.

Courses delivered online may be either synchronous or asynchronous. Synchronous online classes require students and instructors to be online at the same time. Lectures, discussions, chats, etc. occur at a specific time. All students must be online at that specific hour in order to participate.

With asynchronous online courses, lectures, assignments, and other materials are posted online and students may access the material at any time, although the instructor generally sets a definite time period in which students may participate in each online class.

Hybrid courses (also known as blended courses) include both face-to-face classroom meetings and an online component. The online component may be either synchronous or asynchronous.

Independent Study

Independent Study is a one-credit course graded on a pass/fail basis. To receive credit, the student must spend at least 60 hours during the semester in which the student enrolls in Independent Study. Students are responsible for keeping a log of their hours and submitting the log to the supervising faculty member at the end of the semester.

A student may satisfy an independent study by researching and writing a paper of at least 10 pages or reading materials assigned by the sponsoring faculty member. Assigned readings must relate to a particular theme, and the student must produce either a single descriptive paper illustrating a thorough understanding of the subject or a series of papers summarizing the contents of the assigned reading materials. A student may earn no more than two credits through Independent Study.

Students may not enroll in an Independent Study without the consent of a faculty sponsor, who must be a full-time faculty member. The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may approve Independent Study credit with an adjunct faculty member if a full-time faculty member acts as a co-sponsor for the student and reviews the student's work product.

Changing Status (Part-Time or Full Time)

Students who have not completed their lockstep courses may change status only under the conditions set out in Academic Standard 11.1 found in the Student Handbook. Students who have completed their lockstep classes may change status only with the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs before registration for the semester or session in which the change would be effective.

Cancellation of Classes

Classes may be cancelled for low enrollment. This decision is made by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Pass/Fail Election

You must designate the election of the pass/fail option by submitting an Electronic or Paper Pass/Fail Request Form to Student Services no later than Friday, September 6, 2019. You will not be able to elect the pass/fail option when you register online. You must obtain the pass/fail election form from Student Services or the law school web site and submit the completed form to Student Services. To preserve anonymity, students must not communicate a pass/fail election to the professor.

A student may not elect to take a lockstep course, a required course, a course taken to satisfy a rigorous writing requirement, a course taken to satisfy the upper-level experiential requirement, or a course taken to satisfy the requirements for a certificate program on a pass/fail basis, unless the course is offered only on a pass/fail basis.

Student Services must first verify your eligibility for pass/fail credit. Please review section 8.5 of the law school's Academic Standards found in the Student Handbook for rules and limitations on pass/fail credits.

Students who began law school in 2015 or later may count up to 18 credit hours earned in courses graded on a pass-fail basis towards the total numbers of hours required for graduation and, within those 18 hours, may elect to take up to 3 credit hours of letter-graded courses pass-fail. To receive a P in these elected courses, student will need to receive a C or better. A student who receives below a C will receive the actual grade earned. This does not apply to courses graded only pass/fail.

Attendance Policy

Students on academic probation or academic warning who exceed 15% of the regularly scheduled class meetings (including make-ups) will be administratively withdrawn and receive no credit for the class. Students not currently on academic probation or academic warning who exceed 25% of the regularly scheduled class meetings (including make-ups) will be administratively withdrawn and receive no credit for the class. Any student withdrawn from a lockstep course will also be withdrawn from law school, pursuant to Academic Standards found in the Student Handbook. If withdrawal due to excessive absences in nonlockstep courses causes a student's enrolled hours to drop below eight credit hours in the fall or spring semester, the student will be administratively withdrawn from law school and must petition the Academic Standards Committee, under standard 9.6 found in the Student Handbook, for permission to continue in law school.

Students are expected to adhere to special attendance requirements for some classes, including, but not limited to, law clinics, intensive weekend classes, condensed format classes, and externships as published in these registration materials. Law clinics may have office attendance requirements in addition to classroom attendance requirements. Special attendance requirements are explained in the description of the courses to which they apply.

Official days and times for make-ups for cancelled classes:

All day classes	Monday-Friday	12:00 noon
All evening classes	Friday evening

These are the official make-up times. An absence from a make-up scheduled during the official make-up time IS counted toward the maximum number of allowable absences for the class. An absence from a make-up scheduled at a time other than the official make-up time IS NOT counted.

Tuition and Fee Refund Policy

The tuition and refund policy can be found on the Current Students page of the law school website. Click here to view the policy. Please contact Student Business Services at 817-212-4081 with any additional questions.

CREDIT HOUR POLICY

A complete copy of the law school's credit hour policy is available on the law school's website. The following excerpt summarizes the relevant provisions of the credit hour policy for this term.

The Law School adheres to the federal¹ and ABA² definitions of a credit hour. ABA Standard 310(b) provides:

A "credit hour" is an amount of work that reasonably approximates:

- (1) not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction³ and two hours of out-of-class student work⁴ per week for fifteen weeks, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or
- (2) at least an equivalent amount of work as required in subparagraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution, including simulation, field placement, clinical, co-curricular, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.⁵

The academic calendar at the Law School includes two fifteen-week semesters, the fall and spring terms, each of which includes a one week reading period/break from classes, and a two-week examination period. The summer term includes one seven week class session and a one-week examination period. The winter session is a one-week term with an examination, paper or project.

Credit for Classroom Instruction

Students are required to complete 90 credit hours to graduate. Each hour of classroom credit is based on at least 50 minutes of direct faculty instruction. For each credit hour of classroom instruction, students shall spend, on average, a minimum of 2 hours (based on a 60-minute hour) on out-of-class work during the semester. Clinics and externship hours are calculated differently. See below for further explanation on the credit hour policy for clinics and externships.

Fall and Spring Terms

A four-credit course will ordinarily meet for 240 minutes, or 4 hours, each week for 12 weeks, followed by an examination period. Students are expected to spend, on average, a minimum of 560 minutes, or 9.3 hours, on out-of-class work per week during the semester.

A three-credit course will ordinarily meet for 180 minutes, or 3 hours, each week, followed by an examination period. Students are expected to spend, on average, a minimum of 420 minutes, or 7 hours, of out-of-class work per week during the semester.

A two-credit course will ordinarily meet for 120 minutes, or 2 hours, each week, followed by an examination period. Students are expected to spend, on average, a minimum of 280 minutes, or 4.7 hours, on out-of-class work per week during the semester. Clinics and externship hours are calculated differently.

¹ 34 C.F.R. § 600.2 (2015), Regulations of the Offices of the Department of Education

² ABA Standards and Rules of Procedure for Approval of Law Schools (2018-2019), Standard 310(b)

⁴ "An 'hour' for out-of-class student work is sixty minutes." Interpretation 310-1, ABA Standards and Rules of Procedure for Approval of Law Schools (2018-2019).

⁵ ABA Standards and Rules of Procedure for Approval of Law Schools (2018-2019), Standard 310(b)

A one-credit course will ordinarily meet for 60 minutes, or one hour, each week, followed by an examination period. Students are expected to spend, on average, a minimum of 140 minutes, or 2.3 hours, on out-of-class work per week during the semester.

If a class does not meet every week or does not have an examination, an equivalent amount of time will be allocated during the term to direct classroom instruction and student out-of-class work per week.

Credit for Clinics and Externships

Each Law School clinic and externship placement includes a classroom component. The amount and level of credit awarded in each clinic or externship placement depends on the amount of time allocated to the classroom component and to student clinical and extern work. Depending on the clinic or extern placement, students will spend at least 42.5 hours in and out-of-class during the term for each hour of academic credit earned. In addition, students enrolling in a clinic or externship for the first time must attend a required orientation. Students are responsible for keeping a log of their hours for review by a faculty member at the end of each semester.

Clinics

Students enrolled in a clinic for the first time are required to attend weekly class sessions as set forth in the chart below and must devote, on average, a minimum of the following hours of out-of-class work per week over a twelve-week semester.

of Credits	Class Meeting Hours	Out-of-Class Work
2	2 hours per week	5 hours per week
3	2 hours per week	8.5 hours per week
4	2 hours per week Patent Clinic and Probate & Estate Planning Clinic Only	12 hours per week Patent Clinic and Probate & Estate Planning Clinic Only
4	3 hours per week	11 hours per week

Continuing Clinic Students

Students who have completed one semester of a clinic may continue in that same clinic for a subsequent semester for two, three, or four credits, with the approval of the clinic instructor. The number of credits is to be determined by the student and instructor. All continuing clinic students are required to attend six one-hour class sessions scheduled throughout the semester and to contribute to clinic orientation. Students enrolling as a continuing clinic student must devote, on average, a minimum of the following hours of out-of-class work per week, over a twelve-week semester:

Students enrolled in Residency Externship-Public Policy attend a corresponding seminar. Please see registration materials for the externship seminar or meeting schedule.

Students enrolled in an externship must devote, on average, the following hours of out-of-class work for the externship placement per week:

No. of Credits	Hours at Placement

Generally, each concentration requires a grade point average of at least 2.33 in at least 14-16 hours of related, qualifying courses. Questions about the law school's concentrations, including the course requirements for each, should be directed to the faculty supervisor for the particular concentration:

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP LAW CLINIC (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-610

CRN 39363

Credits 4-6

Professor: Luz Herrera

The Community Development Clinic in the Fall 2019 semester will be offered together with the Entrepreneurship Law Clinic.

Students in the Community Development and Entrepreneurship Clinic help clients choose, form, and operate their businesses and nonprofits. Students will be assigned actual clients with real-world business interests to represent. Your work may involve sole proprietorships, partnerships, corporations, nonprofit organizations, or LLCs, with needs ranging from formation to effective operation, depending on the needs of your clients. The Community Development and Entrepreneurship Clinic offers students interested in entrepreneurship, housing, and community advocacy an opportunity to work on a range of legal issues that impact community viability. Students in this clinic will learn:

client interviewing;

- counseling clients about choice of entity and structuring considerations;
- preparing entity formation and governance documents (such as certificate of formation, bylaws, and operating agreements);
- preparing memoranda and letters to clients regarding the maintenance and operation of their new entities;
- drafting contracts, such as confidentiality agreements, non-disclosure agreements, and employment or independent contractor agreements;
- managing client files throughout using law practice management software of the sort common to law firms large and small;
- strategic planning; and
- community legal education.

Your client work will be supervised and written work product reviewed by one or more attorneys, each with years of experience forming and operating of business entities. You will be introduced to and work with the same materials these attorneys use in daily life, develop the oral and written skills needed for effective client work, collaborate with your colleagues, and enjoy multiple opportunities for feedback along the way.

Mandatory orientation on Friday, August 30, from 12:00-4:00 p.m. Due to ethical obligations in representing clients, students will not be allowed to drop the course after August 30.

This course counts toward the experiential requirement.

Prerequisite: Professional Responsibility (may be taken concurrently)

Application Required, priority for applications submitted by March 22. No Howdy registration.

HOUSING LAW & POLICY SEMINAR (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-602

Credits 2

Professor: Lisa Alexander

This seminar will explore a range of topics regarding the law and policy of housing. Since 2018 was the fiftieth anniversary of the creation of the Fair Housing Act (FHA), the primary federal statute that promotes housing equity in the U.S., the course will focus on the substantial role that the FHA plays in U.S. housing law and policy. The course will also address the legal, business, and policy considerations that underlie efforts to enhance U.S.-based moderate- and low-income urban and rural communities through the development of affordable housing and commercial real estate. The role of private entities as well as all levels of government will be explored. We will also consider the housing market in the United States, for both renters and homeowners. Topics may include laws and policies to promote housing affordability, exclusionary zoning/inclusionary zoning, the subprime mortgage crisis, government housing programs, and housing discrimination.

The central questions in this course are: “How has the law shaped U.S housing markets?” and “What roles do lawyers play in affordable housing and CED efforts?”

We will address these questions from multiple perspectives including: (1) learning the doctrinal and substantive legal skill sets of affordable housing and CED lawyers; (2) performing in-class exercises; and (3) hearing guest speakers. The main methods of evaluation in this course will be class participation, in class-exercises, and final seminar papers.

Prerequisite: All lockstep courses.

INTERNATIONAL OIL & GAS DISPUTE RESOLUTION (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-604

CRN 39400

2 Credit

Professor: Guillermo Garcia Sanchez

This course introduces students to transactional law and negotiations in an international oil and gas context. Through lectures and discussions students will learn the basics of international petroleum transactions; how international oil companies draft contractual provisions, negotiate deals with governments, and adopt best practices in their operations. The course provides hands-on, practical negotiation experience through participation in a series of simulated exercises where the student role-plays a lawyer representing a client on one side of an acquisition of oil and gas exploration rights in a foreign country.

Prerequisite: One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program.

MARKETS FOR LAW SEMINAR: JURISDICTIONAL COMPETITION IN CORPORATE LAW AND BEYOND (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-605

CRN 39427

2 Credit

Professor: Robert B. Ahdieh, Dean & Anthony G. Buzbee Endowed Dean's Chair

This seminar – which will focus on corporate and securities law, but may also be of interest to students who wish to write papers on environmental law, health law, family law, and other areas characterized by a mix of federal and state law – will explore the dynamic that emerges when multiple jurisdictions compete to produce legal rules. By contrast with our conventional ideas about how law is created, the law emerges in these settings through a kind of “market.” As one writer has described it, law is a “product” in these circumstances: a good to be priced, bought, and sold. Corporate law – given the role of state competition in its creation – will serve as our case study. Through relevant readings and your papers’ exploration of jurisdictional competition in environmental law, family law, health law, bank regulation, criminal law, and (of course) corporate/securities law, though, we will seek to understand the nature and wisdom of markets for law more generally.

Prerequisite: One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program.

PRACTICAL LAWYERING WITH MODERN TECHNOLOGY (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-606

CRN 39441

1 Credit

Professor: Tennessee Walker & Travis Patterson

Today’s law students think differently and are more tech savvy than most established practitioners—this is a good thing. Modern law students should be taught to use their built-in skillset to benefit their clients and further their careers. This practical litigation skills course will teach students to capitalize on their generational skillset—positioning them to be valuable assets to both clients and employers. Students will learn the benefits of using modern thinking and modern technology for, among other things, client communications, gathering evidence, working a case up for trial, evidence presentation, brand building, and business development.

Prerequisite: One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program.

SECURITIES ETHICS & COMPLIANCE (SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7900-607

CRN 39461

2 Credit

Professor: Dee Raiborn & David Woodcock

A strong ethics and compliance program is critical to ensuring that businesses, firms, executives, and boards comply with the myriad laws and regulations governing securities. Lawyers play a key role in ethics and compliance across a wide range of regulated entities. This course will discuss this topic in the context of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Department of Justice (DOJ), state regulators, self-regulatory organizations, and private securities plaintiffs. Topics will include: the definition of a security; the general statutory framework governing enforcement actions; how the SEC investigates to ensure compliance; financial reporting and the role of gatekeepers; insider trading policies and prevention; specialized areas of special compliance concern; compliance in a highly regulated entity; compliance and risk management; the role of private securities class action/derivative litigation. Students are required to conduct an investigatory interview of the type that would be required in an internal or government investigation when a suspected compliance issue arises.

Prerequisite: One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program.

GLOBAL LAWYERING

ART, FASHION, FOOD & CULTURE: TRADE AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN CAMBODIA (FIELD TRIP, SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7830-601

CRN 39482

2.5 Credits

Professor: Irene Calboli and Jeff Slattery

This course will provide students with an opportunity to learn about international and domestic legal issues related to trade and sustainable development in the fast-growing nation of Cambodia. Students will explore the progress of law, business, and economic interests from ancient to modern times in the context of agriculture, fashion, art, and cultural heritage. In each respect, students will consider the challenges and opportunities faced by governmental and non-governmental organizations, as well as national and foreign businesses operating within the country. A core part of the student experience will involve meeting with policy makers, diplomats, business executives, and other stakeholders to discuss their concerns about and ideas for the future of trade and sustainable development from local and global perspectives.

This course includes a field trip to Cambodia. Students will complete the Field Study Preparation for 0.5 credits as a Spring 2019 course with the Field Trip Completed in May and the Field Study Debrief, Reflection Exercises, and Research Project completed during the Fall 2019 semester for an additional 2.5 credits.

JERSEY AND GUERNSEY: SOVREIGNTY, BREXIT AND THE EUROPEAN UNION: THE CHANNEL ISLANDS AND FINANCIAL REGULATION (FIELD TRIP, SPECIAL TOPICS)

LAW-7830-602

CRN 39483

2.5 Credit

Professor: Charlotte Ku and Andrew Morriss, Dean, School of Innovation

As jurisdictions that operate autonomously from British law, Jersey and Guernsey have operated neither completely inside nor outside of the European Union. As such, they have served as an investment gateway to Europe, but also are a source of regulatory know how on operating in the EU's shadow—knowledge of particular importance now to a post-Brexit UK. As international financial centers, they play a role in enforcing sanctions, tax obligations, and controls on money laundering and terrorist financing. The Global Lawyering Course will provide students the opportunity to see this environment directly through meetings with government officials, regulators, and practitioners both from the law and financial sectors.

This course includes a field trip to Jersey. All short study field courses will be in three segments for a total of 3 credits graded. Students will complete the Field Study Preparation for 0.5 credits as a Spring 2019 course with the Field Study Trip Completed in May and the Field Study Debrief and Reflection Exercises completed during the Fall 2019 semester for an additional 2.5 credits.

Tentative Spring 2020 Distance Education (Online) Courses

A student may not earn more than a total of 30 credit hours toward the J.D. degree for approved distance education courses.

Classes will be delivered online asynchronously. With asynchronous online courses, lectures, assignments, and other materials are posted online and students may access the material at any time, although the instructor generally sets a definite time period in which students may participate in each online class.

Attendance requirements: All distance education course activities run on a weekly schedule that runs Monday through Sunday. Students have weekly deadlines to turn in assignments and to post in discussion boards. Students who have viewed each lecture in its entirety and met these weekly deadlines are counted as present. Students with excessive absences will be withdrawn from the course and receive no credit.

LARW III: IT Contract Drafting (Special Topics)

2 Credits

Professor: Larson

Information technology (IT) permits consumers and businesses to gather, process, use, and distribute data by means of computer networks, hardware, and software. Though IT itself comprises an industry or several industries, almost every other industry depends on IT to do its work, and IT-related contracts are thus ubiquitous in businesses and consumer life. IT-related contracts present a special set of issues, especially relating to licensing intellectual property, ensuring data security, etc. IT-related contracts also represent a wide variety of power relationships between parties: For example, consumers have no opportunity to negotiate terms of use of mobile apps, but a business may be on an equal or superior footing when negotiating with another business or a consumer. This course reinforces basic contract concepts, such as representations, promises, conditions, allocations of risk, and remedies. Through simulations, it teaches students to ethically draft, revise, and negotiate the contracts that govern this important aspect of contemporary business and life.

Prerequisites: (1) One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program; (2) 28 completed hours.

Transfer Pricing (Special Topics)

2 Credits

Professor: Byrnes

Following the design of William Byrnes' treatise on transfer pricing, this course addresses cross border intra company pricing as a multidisciplinary subject of law, accounting and economics in order to value cross-border tangibles, services, and intangibles transactions among units of a multinational enterprise. Topics are examined from a U.S. law perspective compared to OECD, UN and other country approaches, especially Brazil. Topics include arm's length standard, jurisprudence, comparability analysis, risk analysis for tangibles and intangibles, transactional methods (CUP, CUT, Cost Plus, Resale Minus, Commodity), profit methods (e.g. comparable profits method, transactional net margin method, profit level indicators, key performance indicators), functional analysis (supply chain, global value chain analysis), industry economic data gathering and analysis, cost-sharing arrangements, profit splits and residuals, platform contributions, safe harbors, documentation, advance pricing agreement procedures, and mutual agreement procedures. Each student will, as an outcome, draft a functional analysis of an industry. The core concepts of the U.S. taxation of individuals and corporations 'inbound' and 'outbound' activities will be surveyed. Moreover, the course will compare U.S. tax practice with its trading partners as well as examine key tax policy drivers of international organizations.

Prerequisites: (1) One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program; (2) 28 completed hours.

Taxation of Business Entities (Special Topics)

3 Credits

Prerequisites: (1) One year of law school in the full-time or part-time program; (2) 28 completed hours; (3) Federal Income Tax.
