This three-credit course is part of a multiple-year project that seeks to understand the experiences of Mexicans who return—either voluntarily or through deportation—after living in the United States. What are the legal and social challenges faced by Mexican returnees? What services do returnees need and what best practices should be used in providing these services?

When will the class & field trip take place?

- Spring 2020 class meetings: Jan. 21, Feb. 21, Feb. 28, March 20, and April 3 at 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.
- Field Trip: May 2–May 16, 2020
- Fall 2020 class meetings: TBD

Where will you go?

- Mexico City, Guanajuato, and Puebla

What will you do?

- You will be exposed to comparative law methodologies, immigration and workplace law, the Mexican government and legal system, and learn about civil society.
- You will meet with lawyers, non-profit organizations, and governmental agencies working with returnees to learn about their services and experiences.
- You will engage in service projects (such as providing legal information to help returnees wrap up their financial and other affairs in the U.S.).
- At the end of the course, you will prepare a white paper that addresses current successes in reintegration and that proposes additional policy and legal solutions on both sides of the border to better aid reintegration.
